

BODIANUS PENTACANTHUS.

CHARACTER GENERICUS.

Opercula squamata armataque, margine laevi.

Bloch. ichth. 7. p. 22.

Thoracici.

CHARACTER SPECIFICUS, &c.

BODIANUS ruber, operculis quinque-spinosis.

BODIANUS PENTACANTHUS. B. aculeis
quinque ad opercula.

Bloch. ichth. 7. p. 29. t. 225.

Jaguaraca.

Jonst. Ruysch. Marcgr. &c.

---

Aucta est hisec temporibus scientia naturalis miro incremento, visumque est physicis nova multa genera instituere; cumque piscium qui thoracici vocantur ingens sit numerus, inde fit ut quo major diversitas, eo latiori distributione opus sit. E novis igitur est generibus Bodianus, qui multas amplectitur species, nonnullas pulcherrimis coloribus obtinetas. Maria incolit Brasiliensia species quam de pinximus magnitudine quasi dimidiata, ab indigenis vulgariter Budiano dicta.

542

RN

THE
FIVE-SPINED BODIAN.

GENERIC CHARACTER.

Gill-Covers scaly and armed; but smooth at the margin.

SPECIFIC CHARACTER, &c.

Red BODIAN, with five spines on the gill-covers.

Jaguaraca.

Piso. Ray. Willughb. &c.

---

This is one of the new genera into which the vast number of thoracic fishes are, in consequence of the late accessions to natural history, at present distinguished. It contains several species, some of which are remarkable for the beauty of their colours: that represented on the present plate is a native of the Brasilian seas, and is represented of about half the natural size. Its native name among the Brasilians is Budiano.